

CASTRO ORDERED TO ELLIS ISLAND

Ex-Dictator Fumes When Detained and Denies He Is Plotting Revolt.

SECRET INSTRUCTIONS BAR HIS LANDING

Declares Venezuela in "Rotten" Condition — Says "Watchful Waiting" Means Nothing.

General Cipriano Castro, deposed dictator of Venezuela, arrived off New York yesterday, from Barbados, on the liner Vauban. His next stop is Ellis island, where he will be conveyed this morning to await decision of immigration authorities as to whether he is an undesirable alien.

The old fierceness which made Castro the terror of his country broke forth yesterday afternoon, when he was informed he was to be "detained."
"My mission to this country is a peaceful one," he cried. "I have not come to stir up war again in Venezuela; have not come to consult with El Mocho Hernandez, who wishes to overthrow Gomez; have not come to foment disorder in any Latin-American country."

Ex-Dictator Seeks a Rest.
"I come simply as a guest of America —to rest, to tarry a while before I go to join my family in Porto Rico.
It's an outrage to send me to Ellis Island—an outrage that will cease the moment I have explained my mission to your government authorities."

The general had apprehended no difficulty in landing here. On his first visit three years ago he was held at Ellis Island for several weeks, but by an appeal to the courts gained the privilege of going anywhere in this country.
He believed that this decision had established his status as a personage free, forever, from the restraint of immigration authorities.
Schoon Castro, who was with her husband, must go with him to the island.

"Orders from Washington." The immigration officers gave "orders from Washington" as the only reason for their act.

Reports that Castro was anxious to foment a new revolution in Venezuela have travelled to this country more swiftly than the Vauban, and it was predicted in Washington four days ago that he would not be allowed to land.
Latin-American leaders here predicted that he would hold a conference with General "El Mocho" Hernandez, and that the two would plot the overthrow of Juan Vicente Gomez, now at the head of affairs in Venezuela. Castro and Hernandez have been bitter political enemies for years, but it was thought they might unite under the battle cry of,
"Anything to overthrow Gomez."

Widespread Revolt Feared.

The proposed revolution, it was asserted by Latin-American exiles, ahead possibilities of lapsing over into Nicaragua and Honduras.
Castro, until he had been told that he was to stop temporarily at Ellis island, rather than at the St. Regis, as he had planned, was in a jovial mood. He seemed in excellent health, and chatted freely of his affairs.

That Venezuela appeared to be in need of his immediate attention appeared in the ex-dictator's answer to a series of questions.
"How are economic conditions in Venezuela?" some one wanted to know.
"Rotten," came Castro's reply.
"And political conditions?"
"Rotten."

Poor Venezuela Is—Rotten.

"And finances?"
"Rotten." My former country is in no shape for a revolution of any kind."
"What do you think of President Wilson's policy of 'watchful waiting' in regard to the Latin-American countries?"
"Watchful waiting? I do not know the words—they carry no meaning for me. I am an admirer, however, of your President. I saw him at the inauguration."

TOLD TO GO, WIFE CHARGES

Greenebaum Answers That She Called Marriage Heaven.

Irene Greenebaum obtained a judgment before Justice Whitaker in the Supreme Court yesterday for alimony of $20 a week and $100 counsel fees pending trial of her separation suit against Michael Greenebaum, former vice-president of A. S. & Co., 19 West Twelfth Street.

Charges of cruelty, since her marriage, in 1907, are made by Mrs.
Greenebaum. Further, she alleges that her husband urged her to leave him.

Greenebaum says his wife once told him that her marriage had taken her out of hell and put her in heaven.
They have two children.

GOLD SHIPMENTS RESUMED

British Consignment Reaches Halifax on Way Here.

Portland, Me., July 15.—Shipment of gold and securities from England to this country by way of Halifax has been resumed, it was learned to-day. A consignment has reached Halifax, and will pass through Maine to-morrow on its way to New York.

Although no information could be obtained as to the amount of the shipment, it was said that three steel cars had been provided, and that armed guards would be aboard.

WANTS MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Eighteen-Year-Old Albert Ray Seeks Freedom in Court.

Albert J. Ray, eighteen years old, began suit yesterday in the Supreme Court, through his mother as guardian, to have annulled his marriage to Marie Gehardt Ray, who was served with a summons at 1612 Broadway.
According to the complaint, Albert was married in Baltimore last January.

Kobre Insurance in Court.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company began suit in the Supreme Court yesterday to determine the disposition of the proceeds of two policies in the name of the late Max Kobre, the East Side banker, who failed in 1914 and died June 4, 1916. The company wants to pay a policy for $50,000, reduced through loans to $46,000, and to be relieved of further responsibility. It also seeks an order providing for the payment of a $4,000 annuity due the widow, Sarah Kobre.
